Pretty in print

For a guaranteed where did you get it? look, in your autumn wardrobe, there is an achievable update on the check classic. Start with a hint of pink and a deep-tooth houndstooth, but look for a profile cut that sharpens your shoulders and gives you a silhouette, however many layers you have underneath.

New vintage

Forget that faded, second-hand find at the flea market and focus on up-to-the-minute prints instead. These ditsy details, combined with a modern dress cut, mean you can pull off retro without revisiting yesterday. Try clever colour combinations, such as pink with green, and wear them with confidence. For the perfect finish, choose a cross-body faux fur.
Dress, £650, sizes 4-20; faux fur stole, £70, both LK Bennett. Belt, £150, Dorothee Schumacher >>

Finishing touch

The pink coat is still going strong and we love this tweed version. Boost your fashion cred in an instant by adding brooches. Pin them onto your coat's lapels and see your cocoon cut leap into next season. Add a metallic clutch and it will be clear you're not afraid to try something new.
